

QUALITY POLICY

The customer maximum satisfaction, the quality of the designed and/or supplied product and of the provided service, together with the actual legal regulations compliance, are the main targets that EVOLOGICS S.r.l. pursues over time through continuous and timely improvement of its process, products and supplied services.

The Top Management of EVOLOGICS S.r.l. considers extremely important, to reach the Customer maximum satisfaction in addition to the achievement of the predefined targets, the support, the involvement and the satisfaction through all the Organization's levels.

Involvement developed through the team training about the activities carried out as well as:

- To the quality policy
- To the business targets
- To the quality management system's structure and contents

To excel in the quality of the products and services provided, EVOLOGICS S.r.l. decided to:

- Optimize its own production process by reducing wastes and discards and creating as much value as possible
- Perform process quality control activity using targets that can be measured and continuously improved
- Perform audits to the quality management systems to allow the identification of sectors that can be improved
- Enhance the human resources contribution in the product realization and in services provision
- Continuous update in cutting-edge technology and production resources to better satisfy the customer's needs meeting the known or perceived expectations
